Dear Grandma;

I want to thank you again for letting me barge in on you for sleep and cats.

How are you feeling? I hope you and everybody up there is getting along alright. I am feeling fine, the only trouble is finding something to eat all the time without overrunning my budget.

The fellows I am rooming with are all swell "joes", so I think everything is going to be great here. For the past week we have been taking tests all day and going to class meetings at night. That is why I haven't written sooner.

Well it's nearly time to clean up for lunch so I'll have to close for now.

My address is on the back of the envelope. Write soon and tell me the news. Lots of love,
Stuart
